AT THE THEATERS

(By N. S. A.)
There seems now to be two bad seasons in Los Angeles. The rainy season and the divorce season.

David Warfield will revive his great success, "The Return of Peter Grimm." According to present plans Warfield will start work on it in October.

Bill Hart has just purchased what is known as the Old English Cottage in Hollywood for his residence. The price is reported at $25,000. Special landscape work will be done on it, a swimming pool installed and other extensive improvements made.

Jane and Katherine Lee, former Fox film stars are now playing a few vaudeville dates around New York.

An uncle of Blanch and Julie Ring, worth $5,000,000, recently died in Boston. Now the sisters are wondering. Julie Ring was here at the Grand recently in "Up in Mabel's Room."

D. W. Griffith has a big company up in the mountains at White River Junction, Vt., where snow scenes in "Way Down East" are being made.

New Goldwyn Pictures ready for release will include Mary Robert Bluebird's "Dangerous Days," Rupert Hughes' "The Cup of Fury," Basil King's "The Street Called Straight," Tom Moore in "Dude," Will Rogers in "Water, Water, Everywhere," Pauline Frederick in "The Palmer Case," Mabel Normand in "Piano," Geraldine Farrar in "The Woman and the Puppet," Jack Pickford in "The Little Shepherd," and Rex Beach's "Silver Horde."

Ben Turpin on his return to the Mack Sennett studio in Hollywood was asked how he enjoyed his vacation in the wilds of Arkansas and Ben said that he had been trying to have a great time, but there was a terrible thing preying on his mind, and it put all the fun of his trip out of commission. He said that he worried a great deal trying to figure out how moths lived in the days of Adam and Eve.

Nashimova really has arrived—at the Metro studio in Los Angeles she is endearingly called Jazzimova.

Mack Sennett claims that he always thought he had a great deal to worry over until the other day when he saw a small boy with the mumps and whooping cough all at the same time.

Walter Anthony, publicity director of the Mack Sennett comedies, got on a train not long ago to go to San Diego on business and he said to the conductor of the train:

"You have a lot of wrecks on this road." "Oh, no," sneered the conductor. "You're the first I have seen for a long time."

Anthony rode in silence the rest of the trip.

Scoffs at Using Double.

That Ruth Roland, the serial star, consistently refuses a "double" for dangerous scenes is the affidavit of Frances Gullian, the scenarist, who is writing the film story of her serial, "Broadway Bob." Miss Gullian observes that Miss Roland considers no stunt too dangerous, and that she
